

UNITED
MORE THAN EVER

We are thrilled and honoured to be supported by the United Way of Northern BC, one of the most vital community organizations in our region. The John Howard Society works to support people who are transitioning from the criminal justice system back into society. Our goal is to facilitate safe, healthy, and nurturing opportunities for our clients through access to supportive housing and life-changing support services. With help from our partners at the United Way, we collaborate with many other local groups to help return people to good social standing and, in turn, support the development of a stronger community. With the United Way, the John Howard society shares the vision of moving our most vulnerable citizens from poverty to possibility. We hope you continue to support the United Way to continue their much-needed investments in our community.
